

East Lothian: www.visiteastlothian.org/activities/walking Link to leaflets about this section of the John Muir Way in

The John Muir Way: www.johnmuirway.org www.visiteastlothian.org/activities/walking Queen Mary's Mount Walk (Carberry Hill): details at http://musselburghheritage.org.uk/?page_id=120 details from Musselburgh Conservation Society at Pinkie Battlefield Walk (site of the Battle of Pinkie 1547):

www.musselburghtrail.co.uk

For further details of Ordnance Survey maps.

traveline

scotland

Musselburgh Trail (the River Esk Plaque Trail):

Links to further information about local places of interest:

keep dogs under control at all times and please take your hides, accessible to all. To avoid disturbing wildlife, please visitors to observe local bird life from specially constructed Levenhall Links provides an excellent vantage point for an otter, in the heart of Musselburgh. The bird reserve at may be lucky enough to spot a heron, kingfisher, or even Follow the River Esk Path, with its Murals Trail, and you

Musselburgh

Area Partnership

opportunity to spot wildlife along the coast. providing spectacular views across the Firth of Forth and an historic Fisherrow Harbour and along Musselburgh promenade, The John Muir Way national coast-to-coast route runs past the finest rococo interiors in Scotland.

Trust for Scotland property, is famed for having some of the it the oldest surviving golf club in the world. Newhailes, National Racecourse. The record books date the course to 1672, making 9-hole Musselburgh Links golf course is based within the Scotland, has been a venue for racing since 1816. The historic golf and its racecourse. Musselburgh Racecourse, the oldest in The largest town in East Lothian, it is well known today for

.4811 QA yd sutsta

stands today over the River Esk. Musselburgh received burgh settlement here since Roman times, and the Roman Bridge still which lie along its shore on the Firth of Forth. There has been a The name Musselburgh derives from the extensive mussel beds, walking or cycling, rather than using the car. routes to encourage everyone to consider getting around by explore the town and its environs. It also shows active travel Musselburgh, which will enable you to get out and about and To'nuot teanoh' edt brand routes around the 'honest toun' of

Paths around Musselburgh

Paths in the Musselburgh area

Including Musselburgh, Wallyford and Whitecraig, East Lothian

Walk, run, cycle, ride

Core Paths around Musselburgh, Wallyford and Whitecraig

