The website rshp.scot/background states that Relationship, Sexual Health and Parenthood programmes for Scottish schools are being developed by RSHP and delivered by the agency TASC (Scotland) Ltd (tascagency.co.uk).

Are you one of the local authorities that supports this programme? Will you be introducing this programme into schools within your local authority area?

East Lothian Council has been and will continue to be part of the Lothian's' local authorities group where details of the new programme are being shared and developed. This new RSHP programme is a refresh and update on the present SHARE programme (Healthy Respect) which all non-denominational schools deliver to pupils.

Our plan is to introduce this new programme when it is available.
