REPORT TO: Members' Library Service

MEETING DATE:

BY: Head of Development

SUBJECT: Environmental Health Service Charter 2016

1 PURPOSE

- 1.1 As a regulatory service, Environmental Health will ensure that the steps that lead to formal enforcement action are in line with national protocols including the Scottish Regulators' Strategic Code of Practice, the Enforcement Concordat, Food Law Code of Practice and other recognised national guidance specific to the offence. This report seeks to ensure that the Service's position in terms of regulation is in line with these documents and reflects good practice.
- 1.2 A Service Charter has been formulated to demonstrate the commitment of the Service towards the Council's ambition of East Lothian being a prosperous, safe and sustainable place with a dynamic and thriving economy that will allow our people and communities to flourish.
- 1.3 The Service Charter reflects the importance of regulation and its effectiveness in ensuring the economic well-being of East Lothian and Scotland as a whole. Effective regulation protects the vulnerable and the environment. It promotes equality and helps raise the standards of service, as well as providing a platform for fair competition, giving reassurance to consumers and business alike. It is a key enabler to economic activity.
- 1.4 The Service Charter sets out the key principles under which Officers of Environmental Health will seek to achieve compliance with the civil and criminal legislation enforced by the Service. The Charter provides a resource to help businesses and individuals understand the objectives of the Service and methods for achieving compliance. It sets out the criteria considered when deciding what the most appropriate response is to a breach of legislation.

2 RECOMMENDATIONS

- 2.1 It is recommended that the Council notes the content of this report and the approval of the Service Charter by the Head of Development.

3 BACKGROUND

- 3.1 In 2015, the Scottish Regulators' Strategic Code of Practice was produced by the Scottish Government. It directs regulators to consider how they support the economic growth of compliant businesses.
- 3.2 The Food Law Code of Practice (Scotland) requires that each Food Authority must have an up to date, documented Food Law Enforcement policy which is readily available to food business operators or food business establishments, and consumers. It states that the Food Law Enforcement policy may be part of a generic policy, or combined with other enforcement policies, providing the applicability of the Policy to the enforcement of Food Law is clear.
- 3.3 The Service Charter not only sets out how the regulatory activities of the Environmental Health Service will be undertaken, it has been created to provide operational information to users of the Service, prescribe standards that can be expected and the actions open to users should they have concerns or complaints. The Charter aligns with the Scottish Regulators' Strategic Code of Practice and is designed to help businesses and individuals understand the Service's objectives and methods for achieving compliance, as well as the criteria considered when deciding what the most appropriate response is to a breach of legislation. The Charter meets the requirements of the Food Law Code of Practice (Scotland) by reference to the Code provisions.
- 3.4 Officers will follow a graduated approach to enforcement, in general, but where there are serious breaches of legislation, or there is imminent risk to the health or welfare of people, immediate enforcement action may be considered.
- 3.5 The enforcement options available to officers in the Environmental Health service include advice and guidance, written warning, statutory notices, fixed penalty notice, seizure, refusal or revocation of approval for food businesses and prosecution. Most work undertaken by the Service involves advice, guidance and written warnings.
- 3.6 The Service's approach to enforcement is underpinned by the five principles of better regulation: proportionality, accountability, consistency, transparency and targeted only where necessary, plus a sixth principle of taking a timely approach.
- 3.7 To ensure conformance to the Charter, the Service commits to:
 - 3.7.1 Through the appropriate selection and recruitment process only appoint officers who meet the relevant standards of competency for their jobs. Where additional training is identified either through the recruitment or PRD process this will be provided under the direction of the relevant officers / management.

- 3.7.2 Ensure that no officers will carry out enforcement work unless they are suitably trained, experienced and duly authorised to do so.
- 3.7.3 Ensure new enforcement officers are trained in the contents of this Charter, when they join the Service, while ensuring existing enforcement officers have also been trained on its requirements.
- 3.7.4 Monitor each of our enforcement activities, to ensure we meet the Charter's objectives.
- 3.7.5 Review this Charter on an annual basis; or sooner if the need arises.
- 3.7.6 Ensure regulatory / enforcement issues are a standing item on the Team Meetings Agenda.
- 3.7.7 Ensure our officers take part in national / regional liaison groups to enhance their knowledge and ensure our enforcement actions are proportionate to those carried out by other local authority regulatory services.

4 POLICY IMPLICATIONS

- 4.1 The work undertaken by the Environmental Health Service in conformance with this Plan contributes towards the East Lothian Plan Single Outcome Agreement:

http://www.eastlothian.gov.uk/downloads/file/9787/the_east_lothian_plan_single_outcome_agreement_2013

5 INTEGRATED IMPACT ASSESSMENT

- 5.1 The Service Charter does not directly affect the wellbeing of the community or have a significant impact on equality, the environment or economy.

6 RESOURCE IMPLICATIONS

- 6.1 Financial – None
- 6.2 Personnel – None
- 6.3 Other – None

1. Introduction

This Service Charter sets out how the regulatory activities of the Environmental Health Service of East Lothian Council will be undertaken. In some organisations, this type of document would be known as an “enforcement policy”. The Charter explains our regulatory activities, the steps we will take to ensure we meet our Charter commitments, and what actions are open to you if you do not think we are meeting the terms of the Charter.

Together with the requirement to comply with statutory enforcement duties placed on the Council by legislation, a fundamental purpose of our enforcement activity is to contribute to the Council’s ambition of East Lothian being a prosperous, safe and sustainable place with a dynamic and thriving economy that will allow our people and communities to flourish.

Regulation is an important part of the context within which businesses operate. Effective and well-targeted regulation by the Council plays an important role in ensuring the economic well-being of East Lothian and Scotland as a whole. It protects the vulnerable and the environment. It promotes equality, and helps raise the standards of service.

It provides the platform for fair competition, giving reassurance to consumers and businesses alike. As such, regulation is a key enabler to economic activity. Regulatory services are a valuable source of advice for businesses on good practice, and how to comply with the law. However, where regulations are over- zealously implemented or enforced, they can stifle innovation and economic growth, and produce other unintended consequences.

At a national level, the Government is driving forward a Better Regulation agenda. This agenda is about finding more effective ways of designing and enforcing regulation, without placing unnecessary burdens on those who are regulated. It is about streamlining bureaucracy in order to support increased productivity and prosperity and contribute further to sustainable economic growth.

In order to ensure that the Environmental Health Service meets Better Regulation aspirations – to maximise regulatory outcomes while minimising burdens on businesses and other regulated entities – we have prepared this Charter.

The Charter sets out the key principles under which enforcement officers will seek to achieve compliance with the civil and criminal legislation enforced by the Environmental Health Service. It is intended to guide enforcement officers in deciding what course of action to take when discovering infringements. It also seeks to ensure consistency in the decision making process regarding the enforcement actions taken by our officers.

The Charter is designed to help businesses and individuals understand our objectives and methods for achieving compliance, as well as the criteria considered when deciding what the most appropriate response is to a breach of legislation. The Charter aligns with the Scottish Regulators’ Strategic Code of Practice, as required by Section 5(5) of the Regulatory Reform (Scotland) Act 2014. The principles of this Charter satisfy this Authority’s requirement to document a Food Law Enforcement Policy, as required by the Food Law Code of Practice (Scotland).

Our approach to enforcement will be underpinned by the five principles of better regulation: proportionality, accountability, consistency, transparency and targeted only where necessary, plus a sixth principle of taking a timely approach.

2. Objectives of the Charter

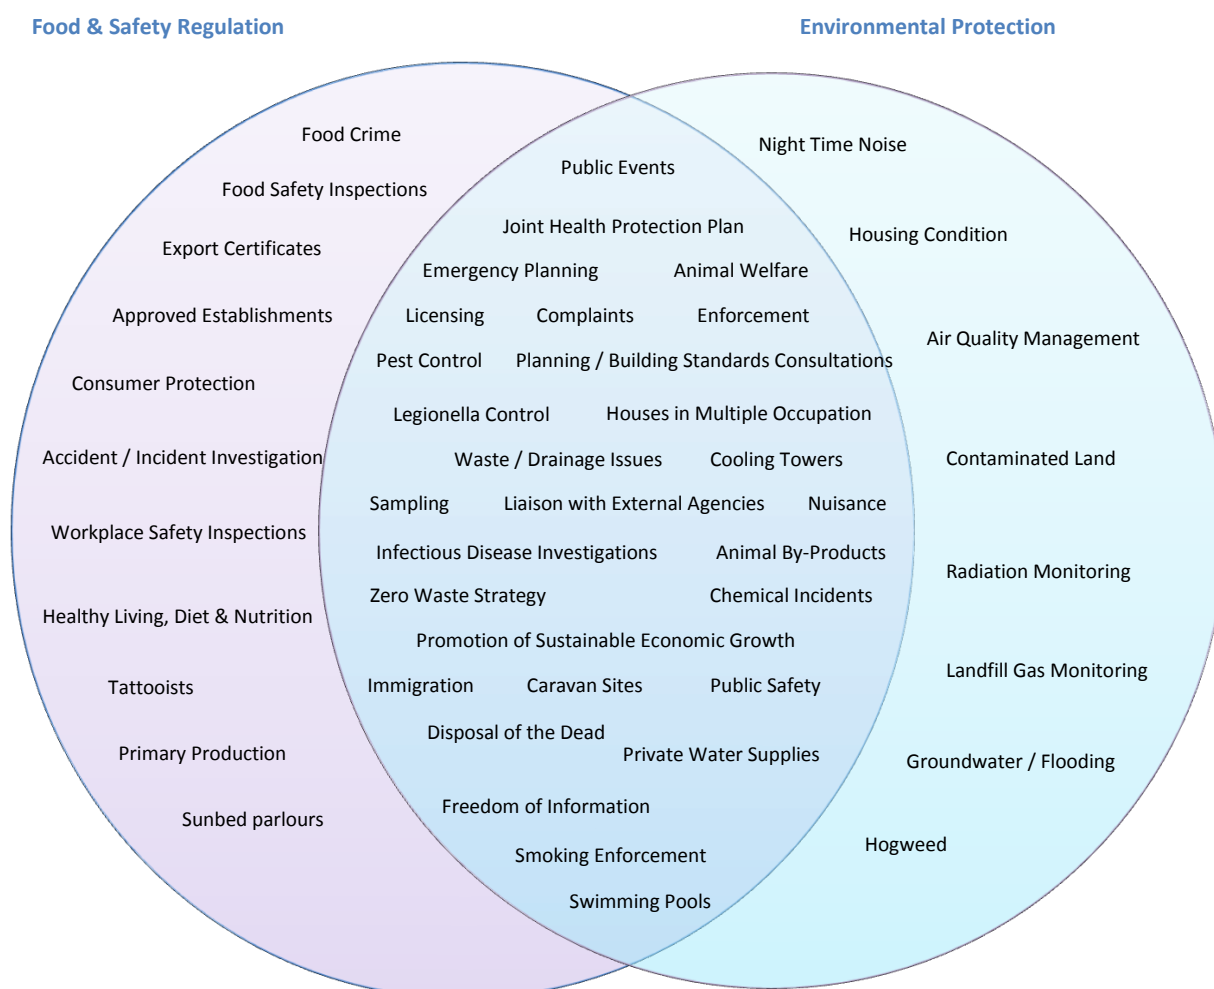

Through the Charter we will:

- (1) Carry out our enforcement activities in a proportionate, accountable, consistent, transparent, targeted and timely way.
- (2) Advise businesses and individuals who might be affected by our regulatory activities, what our enforcement approach is in order to build understanding between our regulatory teams and the local community.
- (3) Inform our own staff what our enforcement standards are, both on induction to the Service, and during their enforcement careers.
- (4) Establish a clear framework for our officers, to ensure they are acting in a fair, consistent and reasonable manner when they take enforcement action.
- (5) Monitor our actual performance against what we say we should be doing, so that any variances from good practice are spotted early, and corrected.
- (6) Contribute to the Council's ambition of East Lothian being a prosperous, safe and sustainable place with a dynamic and thriving economy that will allow our people and communities to flourish.

3. What activities does it apply to?

The Environmental Health Service of East Lothian Council is a holistic public health service with specialist workstreams. This is illustrated in the diagram below:

Environmental Health Service - Workstreams

The priorities of the Environmental Health Service are:

- Protect and promote public health and safety
- Protect the environment from harm
- Support the local economy and help it grow and prosper

The primary function in relation to Food & Safety Regulation is the carrying out of statutory obligations and duties in relation to the Council's responsibilities to regulate activities in respect of:

- Food Hygiene
- Food Standards (composition, labelling etc)
- Communicable disease and food poisoning
- Workplace Safety
- Licensing of certain activities
- Private Water Supplies
- Smoking in public places

The primary function in relation to Environmental Protection is to carry out statutory obligations and duties in relation to the potential adverse effects of the environment on public health. This is achieved by monitoring aspects of the environment and regulating and enforcing a variety of legislation. The diverse areas of environmental factors which this team regulate include:

- Public Health
- Air Quality
- Statutory Nuisance, including Night Time Noise
- Pollution
- Contaminated Land
- Pest Control
- Housing Standards and Grants
- Licensing of certain activities
- Public Health Funerals

Where the consequences of enforcement activity leads to additional costs being incurred by East Lothian Council, it will seek to recover these costs as appropriate from the individual or business responsible.

Most of our functions are fulfilled as part of East Lothian Council's statutory obligations and duties, however some of our activities are discretionary and, as such, can attract charges in order to recover costs incurred. A list of our charges can be found in Appendix A.

4. Service Standards

The Environmental Health Service embraces the philosophies of the Council in order to contribute to the achievement of the ambitions and aspirations of East Lothian's 2020 Vision, the Single Outcome Agreement and the Council Administration, as detailed within the Council Plan 2012-2017. In doing so, the Service contributes to the Council's ambition that "East Lothian should be a prosperous, safe and sustainable place with a dynamic and thriving economy that will allow our people and communities to flourish."

In this regard, we carry out all our activities in a way that supports those we regulate, and we ensure that information and guidance is available to help statutory obligations to be met. We provide advice that is tailored to particular needs and circumstances.

You can expect, and will receive, an efficient and professional service from us.

Our team of Officers will:

- Be courteous and polite
- Always identify themselves by name and provide contact details
- Seek to gain an understanding of how your business operates and the pressures you face
- Provide details of how to discuss any concerns you may have
- Agree time-scales, expectations and preferred methods of communication with you
- Ensure that you are kept informed of progress on any outstanding issues

We want to work with you to help your business grow and develop. It's important that you can come to us for advice. Our aim is to help you solve any problems you may be having, rather than taking enforcement action against you. We can:

- Provide advice that supports compliance and that can be relied on
- Provide advice that is appropriate for your circumstances
- Provide clear advice that can be easily understood and implemented
- Distinguish legal requirements from suggested good practice
- Acknowledge good practice and compliance
- Ensure that any verbal advice you receive is confirmed in writing, if requested

No charges are currently made for advice.

When we visit you, an Officer will:

- Explain the reason and purpose of the visit
- Carry their identification card at all times and present it on request
- Exercise discretion in front of your customers and staff
- Be aware of how you approach compliance within your business, and use this information during future interactions with you.
- Provide advice to help you meet your statutory obligations where required
- Provide a written record of the visit

Requests for our service

We respond to requests for assistance that we receive, including requests for advice and complaints about breaches of the law. We will:

- Acknowledge your request in accordance with our target response times
- Tell you when you can expect a substantive response
- Seek to fully understand the nature of your request
- Explain what we may or may not be able to do, so that you know what to expect
- Keep you informed of progress throughout our involvement
- Provide clear advice where appropriate
- Inform you of the outcome as appropriate

Target response times

We have set out standards for the service so that the most serious or immediate problems or requests are dealt with first. We aim to meet the following targets for our initial response:

- serious or extensive public health problems, such as major pollution incidents, serious accidents at work, food poisoning outbreaks, or serious drainage issues: response on the same working day
- pest control requests: response within one working day for rats / mice; within three working days for other pests
- noise or smoke complaints, housing disrepair, other public health complaints: response within three working days
- non-urgent enquiries and requests for general information: response within ten working days.

By "response" we mean we will advise you of what action we will take, when and by whom. If we cannot help, we will tell you why.

A Night Time Noise Service operates between 22:00 – 02:00 each Friday and Saturday night. Generally, however, the Environmental Health Service does not offer an out-of-hours response, but we will deal with emergencies such as those listed below as a priority:

- request for assistance by the on-call Consultant in Public Health Medicine
- notification of a fatality at work, under health and safety legislation
- request for assistance from a senior Police Officer
- major emergency incidents (e.g. explosions, chemical leaks), in liaison with the emergency services via the council's emergency planning arrangements.

5. Enforcement options available

Where we identify any failure to meet legal obligations, we will respond proportionately, taking account of the circumstances, in line with the principles of good regulation and our prescribed enforcement guidance.

‘Enforcement action’ includes any action taken by duly authorised enforcement officers aimed at ensuring that businesses or individuals comply with the law. This is not limited to formal enforcement, and includes other ‘enforcement activities’ such as advisory visits, inspection and assisting with compliance. In reaching enforcement decisions, officers will consider all the relevant facts and circumstances.

In general terms, the enforcement actions available include:

- Informal action and advice
- Warning Letter
- Statutory Notice
- Fixed Penalty Notice
- Seizure / Detention
- Refusal / revocation of a licence / registration / approval
- Prohibition
- Closure
- Prosecution report

Where we require you to take action to remedy any failings we will:

- Explain the nature of the non-compliance
- Discuss what is required to achieve compliance, taking into account your circumstances
- Clearly explain any advice, actions required or decisions that we have taken
- Agree timescales that are acceptable to both you and us, in relation to any actions required
- Provide in writing details of how to appeal against any advice provided, actions required or decisions taken, including any statutory rights to appeal
- Explain what will happen next, including any timescales
- Keep in touch with you, where required, until the matter is resolved

All decisions regarding the appropriate enforcement action will have regard to relevant documents, including: East Lothian Council Environmental Health Service Enforcement Guidance (Appendix B), current and relevant statutory guidance, Codes of Practice, the Crown Office publication ‘Reports to the Procurator Fiscal – A Guide for Specialist Reporting Agencies’, enforcement matrices and the Human Rights Act 1998.

6. Principles of Good Regulation

Proportionality

Our decisions on enforcement activities will be fair, independent and objective and will not be influenced by issues such as ethnicity or national origin, gender, religious beliefs, political views or the sexual orientation of the suspect, victim, witness or offender. Such decisions will not be affected by improper or undue pressure from any source. We will seek to use a type of enforcement action that is proportionate to the significance of the offence, the level of risk / harm, the impact on communities or the level of financial benefit arising from the offending. For the most serious offending, we will submit a report to the Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service (COPFS) for consideration of prosecution.

Consistency

Consistency of approach does not mean uniformity. It means taking a similar approach in similar circumstances to achieve compliance with the law. We aim to ensure there is a consistency of approach to enforcement by taking a consistent approach to decision making. However, because we consider the individual circumstances of each case when taking enforcement action, particularly where we are aiming to change behaviour, the enforcement action we take will depend on those case-specific circumstances. The enforcement action we take in relation to one person or entity in order to change behaviour may be different to the enforcement action we take in relation to another. For Workplace Health and Safety, the application of an enforcement decision-making framework (Enforcement Management Model) assists consistency. Peer review with other Local Authorities at liaison groups and workshops ensures that our enforcement decisions are consistent.

Accountability

All enforcement decisions made by the Environmental Health Service are made with an appropriate level of oversight within the organisation. We will record decisions to take enforcement action and retain records of all enforcement action taken by us. There are usually legislative arrangements in place for appeals against enforcement action taken by us.

Transparency

If we take enforcement action, we will specify in writing what the non-compliance is and, where appropriate, anything that needs to be done to achieve compliance, together with a timescale. We will also, where appropriate, explain the consequences of non-compliance, and any arrangements that are in place to appeal against our decision to take enforcement action. We will publicise where we use enforcement action with more significant consequences, such as successful prosecutions resulting from reports we make to COPFS. Where appropriate, we may publicise the use of enforcement action in other circumstances to achieve specific outcomes.

Targeting

We will use different types of enforcement action, as part of an evidence-based and intelligence led approach to regulation, to achieve positive outcomes related to the protection and improvement of public health, safety, the environment and the wellbeing of communities (including tackling wider criminality). Where enforcement action is required we will use the enforcement action(s) that is most appropriate at achieving these outcomes, without being restricted to less formal enforcement action in the first instance.

Timely Application

We will endeavour to take appropriate enforcement action at the earliest practicable time to respond to non-compliance or harm before it becomes chronic or persistent or established as a behaviour and, where possible, to achieve a lasting solution. We will normally allow a short period of time to comply, but will not normally delay enforcement action while non-compliance continues. We will notify that business or individual as soon as is practicable of any intended enforcement action, unless this could impede an investigation or pose a health and/or safety risk to those concerned or the general public.

For Food Safety, a graduated, reasonable, proportionate, risk-based and consistent approach to enforcement is prescribed in the Food Law Code of Practice (Scotland). These factors are commensurate with the principles of this Charter.

In addition to the Principles of Good Regulation as set out above, the Environmental Health Service will ensure that during the course of enforcement investigations / actions, business proprietors or individuals and witnesses will be kept informed of progress. Confidentiality will be maintained and personal information about individuals will only be released to a Court when required and/or in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

We believe that prevention is better than cure. Our role will involve actively working with businesses, to advise on, and assist with, compliance so businesses and others can meet their legal obligation without necessary expense. We will provide guidance and advice in a range of formats, such as face to face interactions, telephone, and online. We have access to translation services to communicate in a wide range of languages. We will seek to maximise the reach, accessibility, and effectiveness of our advice. We will provide a courteous and efficient service and officers will identify themselves by name. We will provide a contact point and telephone number and will encourage businesses to seek advice / information from us.

While it is understood that it is primarily the responsibility of individuals and businesses to ensure compliance with the law, enforcement officers will help them, wherever possible, to understand their legal responsibilities.

We will provide information and advice, in plain language, on the rules and regulations that apply. We will discuss general issues, specific non-compliances or problems with anyone experiencing difficulties. When carrying out inspections we will give positive feedback to businesses and individuals, to encourage and reinforce good practices. If asking for information, we will ensure that it is entirely necessary and that we will avoid duplicate requests for information.

East Lothian Council is a public authority for the purposes of the Human Rights Act 1998. We will, therefore, apply the principles of the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, in particular:

Article 6 – the right to a fair trial

Article 8 – the right to respect for private and family life, home and correspondence

Article 14 – prohibition of discrimination on any grounds

7. When we will submit a report to the Procurator Fiscal

In Scotland, the Procurator Fiscal decides whether to bring a prosecution. This may be on the basis of a recommendation by an enforcing authority such as the Environmental Health Service of East Lothian Council. Enforcing authorities must use discretion in deciding whether to report to the Procurator Fiscal with a view to prosecution.

In Scotland, before prosecutions can be initiated, the Procurator Fiscal will need to be satisfied that there is sufficient evidence and that prosecution is in the public interest:

Evidence

The enforcement officer must be satisfied that there is enough evidence to provide a 'realistic prospect of conviction' against an accused. This is an objective test that means that ultimately the Sheriff is more likely than not to convict the accused of the charge/s alleged.

Public Interest

Before submitting a report to the Procurator Fiscal, we will give consideration to balance the factors for and against any proposed report carefully and fairly. Public interest factors that can affect the decision to prosecute usually depend on the seriousness of the offence or the circumstances of the accused. Some factors may increase the need to submit a report to the Procurator Fiscal, for example, where an individual or business:

- Endangers, to a significant degree, the health, safety or well being of people, animals or the environment.
- Deliberately, negligently or persistently breaches legal obligations likely to cause significant material loss, harm or nuisance to others.
- Deliberately or persistently fails to act on, or comply with, previously issued warnings or notices, having been given reasonable opportunity to do so.
- Has a history of similar breaches and/or previous convictions.
- Assaults or obstructs an enforcement officer in the course of their duties.
- Is unlikely to be able to establish any relevant statutory defences
- Is unwilling to prevent a recurrence of the problem

The sanctions and penalties will:

- Aim to change the behaviour of the offender
- Aim to eliminate any financial gain or benefit from non-compliance
- Be responsive and consider what is appropriate for the particular offender and regulatory issue, which can include punishment and the public stigma that should be associated with a criminal conviction
- Be proportionate to the nature of the offence and the harm caused
- Aim to restore the harm caused by regulatory non compliance, where appropriate; and
- Aim to deter future non compliance

Our authorised enforcement officers will abide by this Charter when making enforcement decisions and all operational procedures will be written to accord with it. Any departure from policy must be exceptional, capable of justification and be fully considered by the Service Manager before the decision is made; unless it is believed that there is a significant risk to the public or environment in delaying the decision. Evidence for any deviation from this Charter will be recorded (Appendix C).

8. How do you know we are complying with the Charter?

There is no purpose for us having this Charter if we do not meet the commitments we make in it. Therefore we will:

- Through the appropriate selection and recruitment process only appoint officers who meet the relevant standards of competency for their jobs. Where additional training is identified either through the recruitment or PRD process this will be provided under the direction of the relevant officers / management.
- Ensure that no officers will carry out enforcement work unless they are suitably trained, experienced and duly authorised to do so.
- Ensure new enforcement officers are trained in the contents of this Charter, when they join the Service, while ensuring existing enforcement officers have also been trained on its requirements.
- Monitor each of our enforcement activities, to ensure we meet the Charter's objectives.
- Review this Charter on an annual basis; or sooner if the need arises.
- Ensure regulatory / enforcement issues are a standing item on the Team Meetings Agenda.
- Ensure our officers take part in national / regional liaison groups to enhance their knowledge and ensure our enforcement actions are proportionate to those carried out by other local authority regulatory services.

Should you still remain dissatisfied and wish to proceed to make a formal complaint regarding the service delivered by an Officer of East Lothian Council Environmental Health Service, the formal complaints policy and procedure is detailed below.

What is a complaint?

We see a complaint as any expression of dissatisfaction about our action or lack of action, or about the standard of service provided by us or on our behalf.

What can I complain about?

You can complain about things like:

- delays in responding to your enquiries and requests
- failure to provide a service
- the standard of service you received
- council policy
- treatment by or attitude of a member of staff
- failure to follow proper procedure.

Your complaint may involve more than one council service or be about someone working on our behalf.

How will the Council deal with my complaint?

We will make sure that:

- your complaint is listened to seriously
- every point of your complaint is looked into and answered
- we respect your point of view and other people's points of view
- our answer to your complaint is clear and understood by you

- we take appropriate action to resolve your complaint (e.g. providing an explanation, taking action to resolve a problem or offering an apology if necessary).

What is not a complaint?

- a routine first-time request for a service, for example a first-time request for a housing repair or action on anti social behaviour
- requests for compensation from the council
- things that are covered by a right of appeal.

We also cannot deal with complaints about councillors.

Confidentiality

Your complaint will be kept confidential and details will only be given to those people who need to know for the purpose of investigating your complaint.

How long do I have to make a complaint?

Normally, you must make your complaint within six months of:

- the event you want to complain about, or
- finding out that you have a reason to complain, but no longer than 6 months after the event itself.

In exceptional circumstances, we may be able to accept a complaint after the time limit. If you feel that the time limit should not apply to your complaint, please tell us why.

Contacting the Council to make a formal complaint:

Contact the Feedback Team:

- Phone 0131 653 5290
- Email feedback@eastlothian.gov.uk
- Write Customer Feedback Team, East Lothian Council, John Muir House, Haddington EH41 3HA

When complaining, tell us:

- your full name and address
- as much as you can about the complaint
- what has gone wrong
- how you want us to resolve the matter.

Our procedure for dealing with complaints has 2 stages:

Stage 1 - Frontline Resolution

We aim to resolve complaints quickly and close to where we provided the service. This could mean an on-the-spot apology, an explanation if something has clearly gone wrong and immediate action to resolve the problem.

We will give you our decision at Stage 1 in five working days or less, unless there are exceptional circumstances.

If we can't resolve your complaint at this stage, we will explain why and tell you what you can do next. We might suggest that you take your complaint to Stage 2.

Stage 2 - Investigation

Stage 2 deals with complaints that have not been resolved at Stage 1 and those that are complex and require detailed investigation.

At Stage 2 we will:

- acknowledge receipt of your complaint within three working days
- discuss your complaint with you to understand why you remain dissatisfied and what outcome you are looking for
- give you a full response to the complaint as soon as possible and within 20 working days.

If our investigation will take longer than 20 working days, we will tell you. We will agree revised time limits with you and keep you updated on progress.

What if I am still unhappy?

After we have fully investigated, if you are still dissatisfied with our decision or the way we dealt with your complaint, you can ask the Scottish Public Services Ombudsman (SPSO) to look at it.

The SPSO cannot normally look at:

- a complaint that has not completed our complaints procedure (so please make sure it has done so before contacting the SPSO)
- events that happened, or that you became aware of, more than a year ago
- a matter that has been or is being considered in court.

You may contact the Scottish Public Services Ombudsman by:

Report to Licensing Board / Committee	For offences resulting in formal enforcement action or a report to Procurator Fiscal, Licensing Board / Committee will be notified in relation to a premises or person holding a relevant Licence.
Prosecution	Officers will utilise the Enforcement Management Model (EMM) ⁷ , which is a framework to help inspectors decide upon a proportionate and effective response. See Note below and 6. When we will submit a report to the Procurator Fiscal , within the Service Charter.

Note:

Inspectors are confronted by a myriad of unique variables when carrying out inspections, assessments and investigations, including different work activities, sectors, organisational structures, contractual relationships etc. Assessing risk and compliance with the law therefore ranges from being relatively straightforward to extremely complex.

The EMM is a straightforward linear model and so cannot truly capture all the nuances and complexities of discretionary decision making in all circumstances. While the EMM provides a framework for driving consistency, it is crucial that inspectors' discretion is not fettered by artificially constraining all decisions to the EMM.

Occasionally, consideration of all factors may produce an alternative enforcement conclusion. When this occurs, Officers will discuss with the Service Manager, who will record the final decision and the reasons.
